

Look back at your list of all the things you still need to do to get your business going. Is there anything you forgot? If so, add it to the list.

Are there any steps that feel overwhelming? List them out and break the down into manageable pieces.

Are there any themes emerging?